

A Teacher writes about the impact of KDYT on a young person.

(Young persons name has been changed).

To Whom It May Concern,

I am writing to share the positive impact that attending the local youth club has had on Harry, who, as you are aware attends a special school due to his additional needs. Since joining the youth club, we have observed significant improvements in several areas of his school life.

Firstly, Harry's engagement in school has markedly improved. The structured activities and supportive environment of the youth club have helped him develop better focus and enthusiasm towards learning. He now participates more confidently in class discussions and shows a greater interest in his studies.

Secondly, Harry has shown progress in communication with his peers, as he is able to discuss youth club activities with them as they also attend. The youth club provides a safe space where he can interact with others in a more relaxed setting. This has helped him build confidence and develop essential social skills. His ability to express thoughts and feelings has improved, and he is now more comfortable initiating and maintaining conversations with classmates.

Finally, we have noticed a significant increase in Harry's positivity when approaching new tasks. The various activities and challenges presented at the youth club have fostered a sense of resilience and determination. He is now more willing to try new things and tackles assignments with a more positive and proactive attitude.

The benefits of attending the youth club have been clear for Harry, and we are grateful for the support and opportunities it has provided. We recommend the youth club to other families with children who have special needs.

Thank you for your time and attention.
